What does financial well-being look like? At Wealth Teams Alliance, we know everyone's view of financial well-being is truly unique, which is why every strategy we develop meets our client's set of specific needs, objectives, outlooks, and long-term goals. Wealth Teams Alliance is a group of experienced fiduciaries helping investors reach their goals with a time-tested process built on six decades of academic research and five Nobel Prizes.

Helping retirees and pre-retirees to plan for the distribution of their assets while living and beyond in the most tax efficient ways.

As the proverbial "middle child" in a family of five boys and having a strong family background of financial and estate planning issues, Ben learned first-hand about hard work, putting others first and finding and developing solutions to create parity for future generations and peace of mind for hard working Kansans.

In the year 2000, Ben became the youngest Registered Representative ever hired with Pruco Securities (Prudential). Ben went on to earn his series 7 in 2008 and his series 65 in 2016.

In addition to serving on the local board of directors for the National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors, he also completed the esteemed LILI (Life In Leadership Institute) with NAIFA. Ben has also been privileged to serve on a variety of other non-profit boards. He has been a licensed Life Agent for nearly 20 years helping his clients with areas of planning such as Estate, Retirement, Medicare, Income and Charitable needs.

Ben is also the President and founder of Creed enterprises and its main product LegacyBooks which is an online planning application that was created to help individuals and couples to memorialize the most important pieces of their life's puzzle for easy retrieval by spouses and loved ones at that point at which they are needed the most.

On a personal level, Ben has three children each adopted at birth and has a very active and intentional role in their lives. Ben is a strong advocate for adoption, life and intentional parenting and is passionate about the time he spends with them preparing them to be independent, responsible and strong leaders in their community. Ben also is very active in Toastmasters and is currently developing a curriculum built for young people similar to Toastmasters but geared towards youth in middle and high school.
